NEWELL BRANDS EMPLOYEE SAVINGS PLAN

Effective January 1, 2025

INTRODUCTION

Newell Operating Company (the “Company”), a wholly owned subsidiary of Newell Brands, sponsored and maintained a retirement plan, known as the Newell Rubbermaid 401(k) Savings and Retirement Plan (the “NRK Plan”), immediately prior to January 1, 2018. The NRK Plan was amended and restated effective as of 11:59 p.m. Eastern Standard Time on December 31, 2017 (“Effective Time”). At the Effective Time, the following defined contribution plans in the Newell Brands corporate group (each a “Prior Plan”) were merged with and into the NRK Plan:

- BOC Plastics, Inc. 401(k) Plan
- Jarden Corporation Savings and Retirement Plan
- Jarden Standard 401(k) Savings Plan
- Jostens 401(k) Retirement Plan
- The Ln Co 401(k) Retirement Savings Plan
- Smith Mountain Industries, Inc. 401(k) Plan
- The Waddington Group 401(k) Plan

Effective on January 1, 2018, the NRK Plan was renamed the “Newell Brands Employee Savings Plan” and is maintained for the benefit of eligible employees of the Company and any of its affiliates that are participating employers in the Plan (each a “Participating Employer”). This document, among other things, provides an overview of the Plan in effect as of January 1, 2025. The Company intends this Plan to provide income for your retirement or other long-term financial goals. Generally, by becoming a participant in the Plan, you set aside and invest your own money, and may defer federal income taxes and, where allowed, state and local income taxes on certain portions of your wages. Partnering with you, the Company will help you save more by matching a percentage of your contributions.

As a participant in the Plan, you will have your own Account into which up to three basic types of contributions may be made:

--Elective Deferrals. Through convenient payroll deductions, you can make Elective Deferrals to the Plan consisting of Pre-Tax Contributions and/or Roth Contributions from your Covered Pay. Pre-Tax Contributions reduce the amount of your Covered Pay that is subject to current federal income taxes. Roth Contributions are withheld from your Covered Pay after taxes have been withheld. Earnings on Roth Contributions can be federal income tax-free on distribution if you satisfy certain requirements, while earnings on Pre-Tax Contributions are taxable upon receipt. Elective Deferrals are subject to an annual dollar limit and must be made in accordance with rules specified by the Company.

--Catch-Up Contributions. These are additional Elective Deferrals that you may make through payroll deductions from your Covered Pay if you are age 50 or older during the Plan Year. For those aged 60, 61, 62, or 63, a higher Catch-Up Contribution limit applies. Catch-Up Contributions can be made as Pre-Tax Contributions and/or Roth Contributions. Catch-Up Contributions are subject to an annual dollar limit and must be made in accordance with rules specified by the Company.

--Matching Contributions. The Company matches a part of your Elective Deferrals to encourage you to save more.

Your Plan Account may also contain a number of legacy contributions previously made to your Account or from Prior Plans. Legacy contribution types that do not carry special rules have been combined with your Pre-Tax Account,

After-Tax Account, Roth Account, Match Account or Rollover Account, as applicable. Legacy contribution types that carry special rules have been separately recorded and will be subject to special rules described in this Summary Plan Description/Prospectus.

You choose how to invest the contributions in your Account. When you enroll, you will make an investment election which applies to your entire Account. In addition, you may change your investment elections on a daily basis. See Addendum A for more information on investment options.

If you leave the Company and all of its Related Employers (the “Newell Brands Group”) before retirement, you are fully vested in all of your Accounts under the Plan.

This Summary Plan Description/Prospectus describes how the Plan works and is based on official Plan documents. If there is any difference between this Summary Plan Description/Prospectus and the official Plan documents, the official Plan documents always govern. You can obtain copies of all Plan documents by following the instructions under the section titled “Your Rights Under ERISA.”

PLEASE NOTE: This Summary Plan Description/Prospectus does not apply to collectively bargained employees located at Muncie, Indiana. If you are a collectively bargained employee, contact your Human Resources representative for a copy of the Summary Plan Description/Prospectus that applies to you.

Vesting

“Vesting” is the process of building ownership rights in your Accounts.

Forfeitures

If you are not credited with an Hour of Service on or after January 1, 2018, any non-vested portion of your legacy Employer-Funded Accounts will be forfeited in accordance with the Prior Plan under which your corresponding Prior Plan Account had been maintained, determined as if such Prior Plan had instead remained in full force and effect, as a separate plan, on and after the Merger Effective Time. Forfeitures can also arise when a Participant or Beneficiary cannot be located within a reasonable period following a diligent search, or the Plan makes a distribution to a Participant or Beneficiary in the form of a check which is uncashed, and the Participant or Beneficiary cannot be located within a reasonable period following a diligent search. In both cases, Accounts that are forfeited will be reinstated if a Participant or Beneficiary is subsequently located. Any amounts forfeited under the Plan may be applied to reinstate forfeitures for Participants who are reemployed, to pay any Plan administration expenses, or to reduce any future Employer Contributions required under the Plan, as determined and directed by the BAC.

Re-Employment

- If You Were Not in Employment as of January 1, 2018 and Return to Employment Before Forfeiting Your Unvested Legacy Employer-Funded Account. If you have an unvested Employer-Funded Account balance as of December 31, 2017, you were not in employment as of January 1, 2018 but return to employment and are credited with an Hour of Service after January 1, 2018 before forfeiting your unvested legacy Employer-Funded Account, you will become fully vested in your unvested Account balance as of your reemployment commencement date.
- If You Were Not in Employment as of January 1, 2018 and Return to Employment After Forfeiting Your Unvested Legacy Employer-Funded Account but Within Five Consecutive One-Year Breaks in Service. If you forfeited an unvested legacy Employer-Funded Account balance on or before December 31, 2017, you return to employment and are credited with an Hour of Service on or after January 1, 2018, you will have (with neither an obligation nor a right to repay your prior distribution) your forfeited unvested legacy Employer-Funded Account balance (with no adjustment for earnings or losses) reinstated to the extent otherwise required in accordance with the corresponding forfeiture restoration provisions of the Prior Plan under which your Prior Plan Account had been maintained, determined as if such Prior Plan had instead remained in full force and effect, as a separate plan, on and after the Merger Effective Time.

YOUR ELECTIVE DEFERRALS AND MATCHING CONTRIBUTIONS

You may contribute from 1% to 75% of your Covered Pay to the Plan as an Elective Deferral. The Company will match your Elective Deferrals dollar for dollar up to 6% of your payroll period Covered Pay.

Elective Deferrals

If you elect to participate in the Plan, you may contribute from 1% to 75% of your Covered Pay as an Elective Deferral to the Plan. Your Elective Deferrals are made through convenient payroll deductions in whole percentages of your Covered Pay. You may designate your Elective Deferrals to be Pre-Tax Contributions and/or Roth Contributions.

Pre-Tax Contributions. Pre-Tax Contributions are made on a pre-tax basis. Accordingly, by making Pre-Tax Contributions, you effectively lower the amount of your Covered Pay that is subject to current federal (and in most states, state and local) income taxes. You will pay taxes on your Pre-Tax Contributions and related earnings when they are distributed to you from the Plan.

Roth Contributions. By contrast, your Roth Contributions are made on an after-tax basis. Accordingly, you pay income taxes on your Roth Contributions (from your other pay) in the year they are contributed to the Plan. An advantage of Roth Contributions is that related earnings can be tax-free (federal, and in most states, state and local) upon distribution if certain requirements described under the section titled “Distributions from the Plan” are met.

Automatic Enrollment Contributions and Automatic Increase. If you are automatically enrolled in the Plan (as described under the section titled “Enrollment and Automatic Enrollment”), you will be enrolled with a Pre-Tax Contribution equal to 3% of your Covered Pay. So long as you do not affirmatively elect to set your deferral at 0% or to opt out of the automatic increase, your deferral will increase by 1% each year up to a maximum of 10%.

Contributions are credited to your Pre-Tax Account and/or Roth Account, as applicable, based on your payroll frequency.

Starting or Changing Your Elective Deferrals

You may start, stop or restart making Elective Deferrals, change the percentage of Elective Deferrals, and change any designations of your Elective Deferrals as Pre-Tax and/or Roth Contributions, at any time through the Fidelity Service Center or using the NetBenefits® web site at www.netbenefits.com. Your election will be effective as soon as administratively possible.

Because you are saving a percentage of your Covered Pay, any change in your Covered Pay will automatically affect the amount of your Elective Deferrals to the Plan.

Automatic Increases to Your Elective Deferrals

The Plan offers an automatic increase feature under which the amount of your Elective Deferrals will automatically increase annually by a percentage of your choice. You must set your deferral percentage to 0%, affirmatively opt out of the automatic increase, or have a deferral percentage of 10% or higher for the default 1% automatic increase feature not to apply. If you voluntarily choose to participate in the automatic increase feature, you may choose a different percentage increase. You can start or stop automatic increases by contacting the Fidelity Service Center at 1-833-252-2244 from 8:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. Eastern Standard Time, Monday-Friday or over the internet at www.netbenefits.com.

Matching Contributions

The Company will match your Elective Deferrals dollar-for-dollar up to 6% of your Covered Pay determined each payroll period. Any Elective Deferrals you make over 6% of your Covered Pay per payroll period are not matched. Matching contributions can be deposited at any time up until the time that the Company's corporate income tax return is due with extension.

Example: Suppose your Covered Pay is $50,000 per year, and you elect to contribute 6% of your Covered Pay to the Plan for the entire year. Your election consists of 3% of your Covered Pay as Pre-Tax Contributions and 3% of your Covered Pay as Roth Contributions. Your Pre-Tax Contributions, Roth Contributions and Matching Contributions are determined as follows:

Pre-Tax Contributions:	3% of $50,000 = $1,500
Roth Contributions	3% of $50,000 = $1,500
Matching Contributions:	6% of $50,000 = $3,000
Total Contributions to your Account:	$6,000

As the example shows, the Matching Contributions add to the value of your Accounts. Remember, though, that you must make Elective Deferrals, whether as Pre-Tax or Roth Contributions, or both, to the Plan in order for the Company to match them.

Maximizing Matching Contributions

Matching Contributions are determined on a payroll period basis. Accordingly, to receive the maximum possible Matching Contributions each year, you should make an Elective Deferral of at least 6% of your Covered Pay each available payroll period until you reach the legal limit. However, the Company will make an additional "true-up" matching contribution to your account, if needed, to ensure you receive the full matching contribution on your total deferral election up to 6% of your compensation. See the section titled "Limits on Employee and Matching Contributions" for additional information about legal limits.

THE ADVANTAGES OF PRE-TAX CONTRIBUTIONS AND ROTH CONTRIBUTIONS

Pre-Tax Contributions are pre-tax, which increases your ability to save for retirement. Roth Contributions are after-tax and provide the potential for earnings to be distributed tax-free.

The Plan gives you the option of saving for retirement on a pre-tax and/or after-tax basis. Both ways have their advantages.

When you enroll in the Plan, you may direct the Company to reduce your Covered Pay by the amount of your Elective Deferrals - between 1% and 75%, up to a statutory limit ($23,500 for 2025). If you are age 50 or older during the Plan Year, you may elect to contribute up to an additional amount up to a statutory limit ($7,500 for 2025) as a Catch-Up Contribution. The Catch-Up Contribution statutory limit is higher for any Plan Year in which you are age 60, 61, 62, and 63 ($11,250 for 2025).

Elective Deferrals and Catch-Up Contributions made on a pre-tax basis are not currently subject to federal income tax (and in most states, state and local income taxes too). You will, however, have to pay Social Security taxes on your Elective Deferrals and Catch-Up Contributions made on a pre-tax basis from your other pay. As a result, these contributions will still be counted in determining your Social Security benefits.

By contrast, because Elective Deferrals and Catch-Up Contributions made as Roth Contributions are currently subject to federal income tax, they are considered after-tax contributions. This means that federal income taxes (as well as most state and local income taxes) will be deducted from your other pay. You will also have to pay Social Security taxes on your Roth Contributions out of your other pay, so that your Roth Contributions will also be counted in determining your Social Security benefits. However, upon the eventual receipt of your Roth Contributions from the Plan; you will owe no taxes on your Roth Contributions. Earnings on your Roth Contributions and Roth Catch-up Contributions will be tax-free so long as you both (i) receive a distribution of your Roth Contribution Account no earlier than after the end of a “5-Year Holding Period,” and (ii) your Roth Contribution Account is distributed after your attainment of age 59½, death or disability.

Pre-Tax Contribution Example

Let’s compare two employees’ spendable incomes (after federal income taxes and savings) at the end of the year. Each employee is unmarried, living alone, has $30,000 in Covered Pay and wants to save 6% or $1,800 for the year. Only Employee #1 chooses to participate in the Plan, at 6% of his or her Covered Pay.

	Employee 1 Pre-Tax Savings	Employee 2 After-Tax Savings
Annual Covered Pay	$30,000	$30,000
Pre-tax Contribution	$1,800	$0
Taxable Pay	$28,200	$30,000
12% Federal Income Tax*	$3,384	$3,600
After-tax Personal Savings	$0	$1,800
Spendable Income	$24,816	$24,600
Current Federal Income Tax Savings	$216	$0

In addition, as shown below, Employee #1’s savings will be even larger since the Company will have matched the employee's Elective Deferrals.

Overall Savings

Pre-tax Contribution / After-tax Personal Savings	$1,800	$1,800
Matching Contribution	$1,800	$0
Current Federal Income Tax Savings	$216	$0
Total Savings	$3,816	$1,800

*State, local and Social Security taxes are not included in this example.

As you can see, both employees have savings of $1,800. However:

- Employee #1 has $1,800 more as a result of the Matching Contributions made by the Company.
- Employee #1 has $216 more to spend on other needs. This is the power of pre-tax savings.
- Employee #1 will also defer current taxes on any earnings attributable to his 401(k) savings while Employee #2 will pay current taxes on any earnings on his personal savings.

Remember, this is an example and your savings and taxes will depend on your own tax status and financial situation. Distributions from Employee #1's Account will be taxed when they are received at the tax rates then in effect.

Limits on Employee and Matching Contributions

The federal government establishes a maximum for Elective Deferrals each year, which is adjusted periodically to reflect increases in the cost of living (the “IRS annual limit”). This limit applies to all Pre-Tax Contributions and after-tax Roth Contributions made during a calendar year, including those made on your behalf under any other plan maintained by the Company, a Related Employer or any other prior or subsequent employer. For 2025, this limit is $23,500.

If you reach this limit under the Plan, your Elective Deferrals will be automatically stopped and any excess Elective Deferrals over the limit will be returned to you. If you have participated in any other plan that has made pre-tax and/or Roth contributions on your behalf during a particular year, it is your responsibility to notify the Fidelity Service Center by calling the following phone number: 1-833-252-2244 from 8:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. Eastern Standard Time, Monday-Friday. International Employees may call Fidelity Service Center telephone system at 1-877-833-9900. You must notify the Fidelity Service Center if the IRS annual limit has been exceeded before March 1st of the following year in order to specify which plan is to return the excess contributions to you.

If you made both Pre-Tax Contributions and Roth Contributions above the limit for the year, your Roth Contributions will be returned first.

In addition, you are permitted to make Catch-Up Contributions if you will be or are age 50 or older during the Plan Year. For 2025, the limit on Catch-Up Contributions is $7,500. If you are age 60, 61, 62, or 63 during the Plan Year, you are permitted to make a higher Catch-Up Contribution. For 2025, the limit on the higher Catch-Up Contribution is $11,250.

ROLLOVER CONTRIBUTIONS

In certain cases, you may contribute distributions from other retirement plans to the Plan.

If, before joining the Company, you were a participant in a qualified retirement plan, you may be able to deposit all or a part of your distributions from that plan into this Plan. This is called a “Rollover Contribution.”

Rollover Contributions can either be pre-tax Rollover Contributions or after-tax Roth Rollover Contributions. Pre-tax Rollover Contributions come from pre-tax accounts under a prior plan qualified under Code Sections 401(a) or 403(a), tax deferred annuity under Code Section 403(b) or state or local government sponsored Code Section 457(b) plan. Roth Rollover Contributions come from a Roth account held under one of the aforementioned plans. This Plan will separately account for your pre-tax Rollover Contributions and Roth Rollover Contributions. The Plan does not accept Rollover Contributions of distributions of plan loan offset amounts. You will be entitled to make a Rollover Contribution as soon as you are eligible to participate in the Plan. Your Rollover Contribution will be processed as soon as administratively possible.

You may make a Rollover Contribution by having your distribution from the prior plan transferred directly into this Plan. This is sometimes called a “direct rollover.” Alternatively, if you receive a cash distribution directly from a qualifying prior plan, you must make the Rollover Contribution into the Plan by making a payment to the Plan within 60 days of receiving the payout.

To make a Rollover Contribution, you must complete the required forms, which you can access at www.netbenefits.com or request through the Fidelity Service Center. You must return the forms (including one completed by your prior employer) to the Fidelity Service Center.

Generally, all or a portion of a distribution from a Prior Plan is eligible to be rolled over or transferred to the Plan, unless the distribution is (i) not otherwise included in your gross income (such as after-tax contributions that are not part of a Roth Rollover Contribution); (ii) paid over your life expectancy or the joint lives or life expectancies of you and your beneficiary; (iii) paid over a specified period of 10 years or more; (iv) a required minimum distribution under Code Section 401(a)(9); or (v) a hardship distribution.

In certain cases, your Prior Plan distribution may not be eligible as a Rollover Contribution if you received the distribution from a plan maintained by a company whose stock or assets were acquired by Newell Brands.

At the time you deposit your Rollover Contribution, you will choose how to invest the Rollover Contribution in the available fund options. See the section titled “Making Investment Choices” in Addendum A for additional information.

You are always fully vested in your Rollover Contributions, which are paid when your Accounts are distributed to you or your beneficiary or if you take your Rollover Contributions as part of an in-service withdrawal.

You may initiate the rollover process by calling the Fidelity Service Center and speaking with a Fidelity Participant Services Representative. In addition, a Participant Services Representative can answer your questions regarding Rollover Contributions.

LOANS

If you are an active employee, you may request a loan from your Accounts and pay it back to your Accounts with interest.

You may request a loan by speaking with a Fidelity Participant Services Representative at 1-833-252-2244 from 8:30 a.m. to 8:30 p.m. Eastern Standard Time, Monday-Friday (International Employees may call the Fidelity Service Center telephone system at 1-877-833-9900), or via the internet at www.netbenefits.com. When you borrow money through the Plan, you are essentially borrowing from yourself, at a reasonable rate of interest.

Taking a Loan

All of the rules and procedures that apply to loans can be found in the Plan’s Loan Guidelines which are available from the Fidelity Service Center upon request. A summary of the Plan’s loan rules follows:

- You must borrow at least $1,000.
- You may borrow a portion of the vested value of your Accounts, not to exceed the lesser of (i) $50,000 (as limited below), or (ii) 50% of the vested amount of your eligible Accounts. This means that in order to obtain the minimum $1,000 loan, your vested Account balance must be at least $2,000. The $50,000 limitation will be reduced by the highest outstanding balance of loans to you from the Plan, including any defaulted loans, during the one-year period ending on the date that the current loan is issued.

- Your eligible Accounts include all accounts under the Plan other than the vested amount in your Prior Pension Account, QVEC Account, Self-Directed Brokerage Accounts and any Investment Fund from which the loan cannot be funded due to a restriction on the liquidation of assets in such Investment Fund.
- You may only have one loan outstanding at a time, including any outstanding defaulted loan and any outstanding grandfathered loan. You may repay a defaulted loan in full to restore eligibility for future loans, subject to applicable maximum limits.
- The security for your loan will be your eligible vested Accounts under the Plan.
- Any loan you receive will constitute a lien against your eligible vested Accounts under the Plan.
- Once you have requested a loan, it will be paid to you as soon as administratively possible.
- The balances in your Investment Funds will be reduced on a pro-rata basis according to the balance in each Fund. However, the Newell Brands Stock Fund will be the last fund reduced.
- The interest rate for loans will be the prime rate as reported by Reuters plus 1% on the first day of the month in which the loan is requested.
- Loan repayments generally will be made through payroll deductions, which will begin as soon as administratively feasible after you receive the loan.
- There is a $50 loan processing fee paid to the Plan's recordkeeper that will be deducted from your Accounts at the time the loan is made. After this one-time processing fee, no ongoing maintenance fees will be deducted from your Accounts unless you reside in Florida. If you reside in Florida, there is a mandatory Florida stamp tax that will be deducted from your Account. That tax is $0.35 on each $100 of the loan amount.
- You must repay the loan within five years, except that if the loan is for the purchase of your primary residence, the maximum loan term is 10 years.
- Loans will not be deducted from amounts credited to your self-directed brokerage account.

Repaying the Loan

You must repay the loan principal, plus interest, to your Accounts through automatic payroll deductions (except that if you are an inactive employee, you may repay the loan by either check or an ACH draft). It is important to note that all payments, including interest, go back into your Accounts. The payments will be allocated to the various investment funds in the same percentage as your most current Elective Deferrals.

If you are ever on leave of absence and not receiving a regular payroll check with loan deductions, your regular loan repayments will be suspended. See the Plan's Loan's Guidelines for more information.

If you wish, you may repay the entire outstanding loan balance at any time with no prepayment penalty. You may request an early loan repayment through a Fidelity Participant Services Representative, who will provide the then current outstanding loan balance as the payoff amount. Additionally, you may receive loan payoff information over the internet at www.netbenefits.com. You will have 30 days from the time you make the request to mail in the total repayment. If your loan payoff check exceeds the amount of the outstanding loan by $25.00 or more, a refund check will be mailed to your home. If there is an excess of less than $25.00, the excess amount will be credited to your Accounts in the form of loan interest.

Loan Defaults

Under the terms of the Plan, a loan will become immediately due and payable if any event of default occurs. These events are: (i) the termination of your employment with the Company and all Related Employers, subject to a grace period that ends on the last day of the calendar quarter following the calendar quarter in which the Severance from Employment occurred; or (ii) your failure to make a scheduled loan repayment by the end of the calendar quarter following the calendar quarter in which it becomes due. If your employment with the Company and all Related Employers terminates, you may instead choose to keep your loan outstanding and continue to repay your outstanding loan balance, in accordance with the Plan's Loan Guidelines.

If you default on your loan, the then outstanding loan balance will be considered a taxable Plan distribution to you and you will be issued an IRS Form 1099-R for the year in which the default occurs. A defaulted loan is considered outstanding, so you will be unable to obtain another Plan loan unless you first repay the defaulted loan.

Prior Plan Account

Loans made to you under a Prior Plan that are outstanding as of the date the Prior Plan was merged into this Plan will continue to be subject to the terms and conditions of the loan and the Prior Plan. Loans made to you on and after January 1, 2018 will be made in accordance with the loan provisions of this Plan.

WITHDRAWALS DURING EMPLOYMENT

Certain portions of your Accounts are available for withdrawal before your termination of employment.

You may elect the following withdrawals even if you have not terminated your employment with the Company and any Related Employer, provided that you satisfy the eligibility criteria for each withdrawal.

Note: Withdrawals are deducted ratably across all sub-accounts which are eligible for withdrawal unless you contact the Fidelity Service Center, speak with a Fidelity Participant Services Representative and request that the withdrawal be charged against more specific sub-accounts.

If you have a Puerto Rico Account, you may request a hardship withdrawal from your PR Pre-Tax Sub-Account, Prior PR RSP Sub-Account, PR Non-Safe Harbor Sub-Account and PR Safe Harbor Sub-Account.

Amounts invested in a self-directed brokerage account are not eligible for withdrawal while they are invested in that account. If you would like to make these amounts eligible for hardship withdrawal, you must first transfer them from the self-directed brokerage account into another investment option.

A hardship distribution is available only to enable you to meet your immediate and heavy financial expenses incurred for one or more of the following reasons:

- Medical expenses described in Section 213(d) of the Code incurred by you or your spouse or dependents or necessary for you or your spouse or dependents to obtain such medical care.
- Tuition, related educational fees and room and board expenses for the next 12 months of post-secondary education for you or your spouse or dependents.
- The purchase of your principal residence (excluding mortgage payments).
- The prevention of eviction from your principal residence or foreclosure on the mortgage of your principal residence.
- Burial or funeral expenses for your parents, spouse, children or dependents.
- Repair of damage to your principal residence if it would qualify for the casualty deduction under Section 165 of the Code.

You may request a hardship distribution once per calendar quarter for an amount equal to or exceeding $1,000. The amount of the hardship distribution cannot exceed the amount needed to meet these expenses, plus any amount necessary to cover any taxes and penalties you reasonably anticipate incurring as a result of the distribution.

Prior to obtaining a hardship distribution you must first obtain all other distributions (except for all nontaxable loans) currently available under the Plan and all other deferred compensation plans maintained by the Newell Brands Group. If you are a Puerto Rico Participant, all available nontaxable loans must also be obtained prior to obtaining a hardship distribution.

During the period from January 1, 2020 through December 31, 2020, the Plan allowed special hardship distributions up to $100,000 for Participants impacted by COVID-19. You may repay a COVID-19 related distribution within three (3) years from the date following the distribution date and file amended tax returns to avoid the tax consequences. You should consult your tax advisor regarding repayment. For more information on how to repay a COVID-19 hardship distribution, contact the Fidelity Service Center.

How to Request a Withdrawal

You may initiate the withdrawal process by calling the Fidelity Service Center and speaking with a Participant Services Representative or over the internet at www.netbenefits.com. In addition, a Participant Services Representative can answer your questions regarding your ability to request an in-service withdrawal and the restrictions applicable to such a request.

PAYMENTS WHEN YOU LEAVE EMPLOYMENT

You are eligible to receive the full value of your Account if your employment terminates for any reason.

Termination of Employment

If you terminate your employment with the Newell Brands Group for any reason including retirement or death, you are entitled to the full value of your Account.

How Your Account is Paid

Because peoples' needs differ, the Plan allows you to choose how your Accounts will be paid. Generally, your Account is payable to you in a single lump-sum payment, partial distribution of at least $1,000, or in a direct rollover to an individual retirement account (“IRA”) or another qualified retirement plan. You may also elect to receive automatic withdrawals of available funds on an annual, semi-annual, quarterly, monthly, semi-monthly, or biweekly basis. The amount of automatic withdrawals may be based on a fixed time frame, fixed dollar amount, fixed percentage of your vested balance, or life expectancy-based payments. Such automatic withdrawals may be calculated to satisfy your required minimum distribution under Code Section 401(a)(9).

All distributions will be made in cash. However, your Company Stock will be paid in shares or cash, at your election. If you have amounts invested in a self-directed brokerage account, you may elect to have those investments rolled over in cash or in kind to an IRA.

Most distributions qualify for direct rollover. However, no part of a distribution may be paid in a direct rollover if it is a hardship distribution or a minimum required distribution made on account of attaining age 73, or if later, when you terminate your employment with the Newell Brands Group.

As described later in the “Income Tax Withholding” section, a portion of your Account is subject to Puerto Rico income tax withholding if you are a Puerto Rico Participant. If you are a Puerto Rico Plan Participant, Puerto Rico allows rollovers to (1) certain Puerto Rico individual retirement accounts or (2) certain qualified retirement plans. If you are interested in making a rollover of your Puerto Rico Account, please call the Fidelity Service Center to obtain additional information and forms.

When Your Account is Paid

Your Account is payable from the Plan upon your termination of employment from the Newell Brands Group. If the value of your Account exceeds $1,000, you may postpone receipt of any payment from the Plan until April 1 of the calendar year following the later of the year in which you reach age 73 or the year in which you terminate employment with the Newell Brands Group.

Small Accounts

If upon your termination of your employment from the Newell Brands Group the value of your Account is $1,000 or less, a lump-sum payment or direct rollover payment (as you elect) will be made as soon as administratively possible. If you do not make an election within 90 days after your termination, your Account will be distributed as a lump-sum cash payment, less applicable tax withholdings.

Requesting a Distribution

You may initiate the distribution process by calling the Fidelity Service Center and speaking with a Fidelity Participant Services Representative or over the internet at www.netbenefits.com. In addition, a Fidelity Participant Services Representative can answer your questions regarding the amount available for distribution, your distribution options, and how to complete the necessary forms (if required). If your distribution is subject to spousal consent, completed forms should be returned to Fidelity Participant Services for processing. Distribution forms will be processed as soon as administratively possible after receipt of the completed forms.

Prior Pension Account Annuity Options

If you have a Prior Pension Account, the normal form of payment is a life annuity if you are unmarried and a qualified joint and 50% survivor annuity if you are married. If you are married and prefer to receive your distribution as a lump sum, your spouse will have to consent. To obtain the proper forms, contact a Fidelity Participant Services Representative or Fidelity over the internet at www.netbenefits.com.

UPON DEATH

The full value of your Account is payable to your designated beneficiary if you die prior to the complete distribution of your Accounts.

Designating a Beneficiary

When you enroll in the Plan, you will be asked to designate a beneficiary(ies) who will receive benefits from your Account in the Plan if you die. You may designate anyone as your beneficiary. In addition, you may designate both a primary beneficiary and a contingent beneficiary.

If you are married, your beneficiary must be your spouse, unless your spouse irrevocably consents, in accordance with Plan procedures, to another beneficiary.

You may change your beneficiary at any time over the internet at www.netbenefits.com. Your spouse, if any, must also consent to any change in writing, unless you designate your spouse as your sole beneficiary.

If your beneficiary dies before you, your beneficiary's interest in any Plan benefit ends. If there is no designated beneficiary at the time of your death, your benefits will be payable in the following order: (i) to your surviving spouse; (ii) if no surviving spouse, to your surviving children, per stirpes; (iii) if no surviving spouse or surviving children, to your surviving parents; and (iv) if no surviving spouse, children, or parents, to your estate.

Immediate Vesting

Your beneficiary will receive the full value of all of your Accounts if you die while employed by the Newell Brands Group.

Payments to My Designated Beneficiary

If you die before distribution of your Account balance has begun, your Account will be distributed in a lump sum to your designated beneficiary(ies).

Death After Commencement of Payments

If you die after distribution of your Account balance has begun, distribution will be made to your beneficiary(ies) in a lump sum.

TAX CONSIDERATIONS OF YOUR PARTICIPATION

When you receive payment from the Plan, you may be able to take advantage of some tax-saving features.

The analysis of federal income tax consequences that follows is included for general informational purposes only and reflects the provisions of the Code as in effect on January 1, 2013. The analysis does not describe all relevant tax matters (such as state and local income and inheritance taxes and federal estate and gift taxes) that should be considered in connection with participation in the Plan and does not completely describe all provisions associated with the tax matters presented. Accordingly, you are advised to consult a personal tax adviser for tax planning relevant to the Plan and are further advised not to rely on the following examples, which are for illustrative purposes only.

Contributions to the Plan

You are not currently subject to federal income tax on your Pre-Tax Contributions or any Rollover Contributions you make to the Plan. Roth Contributions are currently subject to federal income tax. You will pay federal Social Security taxes on both your Pre-Tax and Roth Contributions to the Plan. In addition, depending on your nationality and residence, some states, cities, and counties may impose taxes on Pre-Tax Contributions and/or Roth Contributions.

You are not currently subject to federal income tax on any Matching Contributions to the Plan.

Federal income taxes on earnings on your Account (other than your Roth Account) under the Plan are deferred until you or your designated beneficiary takes a distribution of your Account. Earnings on your Roth Account are tax-free if you satisfy the age and holding requirements addressed below.

Distributions from the Plan

In general, federal income taxes will apply to all distributions from the Plan in the year they are paid to you or your designated beneficiary(ies). Whether you will pay state or local income taxes will depend on where you live at the time you receive a distribution.

If you have after-tax contributions held in a Prior Plan Account, you are not subject to tax on the return of those after-tax contributions, only on any earnings on them.

In addition, if you have a Roth Account or Roth Rollover Account, you do not have to pay federal income taxes on the return of any Roth Contributions (including those made under a prior plan) when they are paid back to you. The earnings on Roth Contributions also may be exempt from tax if distributed after the end of the 5-Year Holding Period and your attainment of age 59½, death or disability. The “5-Year Holding Period” is the period of five consecutive years beginning on the first day of the year during which you first make Roth Contributions to the Plan. If you directly rolled over Roth contributions into this Plan from a prior employer’s plan, your 5-Year Holding Period begins on the first day of the year during which you first made Roth contributions to the prior employer’s plan (if that date is earlier than the date you first made Roth Contributions to the Plan).

You may be required to pay a 10% additional income tax on taxable Plan distributions made before you attain age 59½, unless the distribution is (i) rolled over into another qualified retirement plan or to an IRA; (ii) made after termination of employment after reaching age 55; (iii) made on account of your death or disability; (iv) made for the payment of medical expenses deductible under Section 213 of the Code; (v) made to an alternate payee under a qualified domestic relations order; or (vi) paid in equal installments over your life or life expectancy or the lives or life expectancies of you and your designated beneficiary(ies).

If you roll over or directly transfer all or any portion of a taxable distribution to an IRA or another qualified retirement plan, you may avoid the 10% tax and defer taxation of the distributed amounts until they are distributed from the IRA or other qualified retirement plan. See the section titled “Income Tax Withholding.” Note that these tax rules apply to in-service withdrawals as well as distributions upon termination of employment.

As described later in the “Income Tax Withholding” section, if you are a Frozen Puerto Rico Participant, a portion of your Account is subject to Puerto Rico income tax withholding. If you are a Puerto Rico Plan Participant, Puerto Rico allows rollovers to (1) certain Puerto Rico individual retirement accounts or (2) certain qualified retirement plans. If you are interested in making a rollover of your Puerto Rico portion, please call the Fidelity Service Center to obtain additional information and forms.

Lump Sum Distributions of Company Stock

Favorable tax treatment may be available to you or your beneficiary with respect to the appreciation (i.e., the excess of fair market value on the date of distribution over its cost) on Company Stock that is distributed to you from the Plan. The favorable tax treatment can apply if you are being paid a lump sum distribution from the Plan after your termination of employment, attainment of age 59-1/2, death or disability.

In that case, the cost basis of the Company Stock would be taxed to you at the time of distribution but tax on the appreciation would be deferred until the later sale of the stock. At that time, the appreciation may be taxed as a capital gain, depending upon your personal holding period of the stock.

In addition, if the appreciation in Company Stock is attributable to Roth Contributions, it may be exempt from taxation, in accordance with the rules described above for taxation of Roth Account distributions.

Special Rules for Distributions of After-Tax Contributions

If you have an After-tax Account, any related earnings may be subject to federal income tax as ordinary income. If you made after-tax contributions on or before December 31, 1986, you will first be considered to receive those after-tax contributions on a tax-free basis.

Once your pre-1987 After-Tax Contributions have been recovered, a portion of any future distributions from this Account will be includable in income determined by multiplying the amount distributed by a fraction, the numerator of which is the total amount of the earnings then credited to your After-tax Account and the denominator of which is the total value of your After-tax Account at the time of the distribution.

Income Tax Withholding

Federal income tax withholding generally applies to the taxable portion of distributions from the Plan.

The Plan’s Trustee is required to withhold 20% of the taxable portion of any “eligible rollover distribution” paid to you (except for the distributions described below). However, you may elect to have the Trustee make a direct rollover of your distribution to another qualified plan or IRA to defer taxation of the distribution and avoid the mandatory withholding. See the section titled “How Your Account is Paid.”

A distribution is not an eligible rollover distribution and may not be rolled over if it is (i) a distribution paid over your life or life expectancy or the joint lives or life expectancies of you and your beneficiary; (ii) a distribution paid over a specified period of 10 years or more; (iii) a distribution required due to attaining age 73 (or if later, retirement); or (iv) a hardship distribution.

If your distribution includes After-tax Contributions and related earnings from an After-tax Account, these amounts can be rolled over if the receiving plan or IRA agrees to separately account for the after-tax amounts.

If your distribution is from a Roth Account or Roth Rollover Account, the entire amount of your distribution can be rolled over to a receiving plan that allows for Roth account rollovers or to a Roth IRA.

If you request a non-eligible rollover distribution of your Company Stock Fund in the form of stock rather than cash, your Company Stock Fund will not be liquidated to pay the withholding tax. However, the applicable taxes will be withheld from any cash portion of the distribution. All other non-eligible rollover distributions from the Plan are subject to federal income tax withholding unless you elect otherwise.

If you are a legacy Puerto Rico Participant, a portion of your distribution is subject to U.S. federal income tax withholding and a portion is subject to Puerto Rico income tax withholding. The portions are determined based on the amount of time you worked in Puerto Rico as a Participant in the Plan. The Company has engaged Fidelity Investments Institutional Operations Company, Inc. to determine these portions.

If you are a Puerto Rico Participant, the portion of your distribution that is subject to U.S. federal income tax withholding will be taxed in the manner described above. For the portion of your distribution that is subject to Puerto Rico income tax, the amount of withholding depends on whether you elect a lump-sum distribution or other form of payment (i.e., an annuity or fixed payment schedule). Puerto Rico generally taxes lump-sum distributions at 20%. For other distributions, Puerto Rico provides a yearly income tax exemption up to a specified dollar amount. If your distribution exceeds the exemption amount, withholding tax applies at a rate of 10%.

Please note that income tax rules (both in the U.S. and Puerto Rico) are always subject to change. The information provided above is for informational purposes only and the Company is not making any representation as to how these rules could affect your particular distribution. As such, it is always important that you seek the advice of your tax advisor prior to taking distributions from the Plan.

PRIOR PLANS

These provisions apply to you if you were a participant in a plan that has been merged or transferred into this Plan.

Newell Brands has acquired a number of companies which maintained 401(k) retirement plans. These retirement plans (“Prior Plans”) have been merged into this Plan. The benefits earned under the Prior Plans which have been transferred to this Plan have been: (i) added to your Account, and in some cases credited to certain “Prior Plan” Accounts established in your name.

Vesting

Generally, you will be fully vested in your Prior Plan Account if you were an employee, or became an employee, of the Newell Brands Group on or after January 1, 2018, the date as of which the Prior Plans were merged into this Plan.

If you were not an employee of the Newell Brands Group on or after the date the Prior Plans were merged into this Plan and you did not return to the Newell Brands Group after that date, then your Prior Plan Accounts are subject to the vesting schedule set forth in the Prior Plan in which you participated.

Payment from Prior Pension Account

Unless you elect one of the other available forms of payment from the Plan with the consent of your spouse (if you are married), distribution of your Prior Pension Account will be made in either:

- (1) A single life annuity, if you are not married on the date payment begins. A single life annuity provides equal monthly payments to you for your life, with no payments continuing after your death.
- (2) A 50% qualified joint and survivor annuity, if you are married on the date payment begins. A 50% qualified joint and survivor annuity provides equal monthly payments to you for your life, with monthly payments continuing to your surviving spouse after your death equal to 50% of the amount you were receiving when you died. To receive payments under the 50% qualified joint and survivor annuity, your Surviving spouse must be the same spouse to whom you were married on the date payments began.

In addition to the available forms of payment described earlier in this booklet, you may elect to have your Prior Pension Account distributed as a 75% qualified optional survivor annuity if you are married on the date payment begins. A 75% qualified optional survivor annuity provides equal monthly payments to you for your life, with monthly payments continuing to your surviving spouse after your death equal to 75% of the amount you were receiving when you died. To receive payments under the 75% qualified optional survivor annuity, your surviving spouse must be the same spouse to whom you were married on the date payments began.

If you elect to receive a distribution in the form of an annuity, that part of your Account balance that is attributable to your Prior Pension Account will be used to purchase the appropriate annuity from an insurance company. The cost of purchasing an annuity can be significant relative to the total account balance. All costs related to the purchase of this annuity will be subtracted from your Prior Pension Account balance.

If you are married on the date payment begins, you must have your spouse's written consent to elect a form of payment other than the 50% qualified joint and survivor annuity. Your spouse's consent must be witnessed by a Plan representative or notary public.

If you have a Prior Pension Account and you die before distribution of your Account balance has begun, your Account must be paid in a single life annuity for your surviving spouse, unless your spouse agrees to waive the annuity for another available form of payment from the Plan.

APPLYING FOR BENEFITS

You must make a request to receive benefits from the Plan. If your request is denied, you are entitled to a full and fair review.

To receive your Accounts under the Plan, you may make your request for a distribution or withdrawal by calling the Fidelity Service Center or over the internet at www.netbenefits.com. In the event of your death, your beneficiary should contact the Fidelity Service Center at 1-833-252-2244. International Employees may call the Fidelity Service Center telephone system at 1-877-833-9900.

If you have a dispute about your Account, the BAC will ensure that all claims and appeals decisions are made in accordance with the Plan's written procedures and that such procedures are applied consistently with respect to similarly situated persons. You have the right to submit written comments, documents, records, and other information to the BAC for consideration of your claim. You also have the right to reasonable access, upon request and free of charge, to copies of all documents, records, and other information relating to your claim. You may also appoint a representative to pursue any claim (or subsequent appeal) on your behalf. To appoint a representative, you must provide the BAC with a written notice, signed by you, which authorizes your representative to act on your behalf.

If Your Claim Is Denied

If a claim for a Plan benefit is denied or reduced, in whole or in part, you or your beneficiary will receive written or electronic notice of the denial within 90 days after your benefit claim is received. If special circumstances require an extension of time for processing the claim, you will be notified in writing of the extension before the end of the initial 90-day period and the date by which the Plan expects to render a decision. The extension of time will not exceed 90 days.

Any notice of a denial of benefits will advise you of:

- (a) the specific reason or reasons for the denial;
- (b) the specific provisions of the Plan on which the denial was based;
- (c) any additional material or information necessary for you to process your claim and an explanation of why such material or information is necessary; and
- (d) the steps which you must take to have your claim for benefits reviewed, including a statement of your right to bring a civil action under Section 502(a) of the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 if your claim is denied on review.

If your claim for benefits has been denied, you will have the opportunity to file a written request for a full and fair review of your claim, to review all documents relating to your claim and receive copies of them, free of charge, and to submit a written statement regarding issues relating to your claim.

Your Appeal Rights

You must file this written request for review of your claim within 60 days after you receive written notification of the denial of your claim. The BAC shall conduct a full and fair review of the claim that takes into account all comments, documents, records, and other information submitted by you or your authorized representative relating to the claim, without regard to whether such information was submitted or considered in the initial benefit determination. The review will not afford deference to the initial benefit determination and will be conducted by one or more individuals who are neither those who made the adverse benefit determination that is the subject of the appeal, nor the subordinates of such individuals.

The appeal decision will be made within 60 days after receiving your request for review. If the BAC determines that an extension of time for processing is required, the BAC shall notify the Claimant in writing prior to the termination of the initial 60-day period, indicating the special circumstances that require an extension of time and the date the Plan expects to render a determination on appeal. In no event will an extension exceed 60 days from the end of the initial period. The appeal decision will be given to you in writing or electronically.

If the BAC holds quarterly meetings, the BAC will instead make a benefit determination no later than the date of the meeting that immediately follows the Plan's receipt of a request for review, unless the request for review is filed within 30 days before the date of such meeting. In that case, a benefit determination may be made no later than the date of the second meeting following the Plan's receipt of the request for review. If special circumstances (such as the need to hold a hearing) require a further extension of time for processing, a benefit determination will be rendered not later than the third meeting of the BAC following the Plan's receipt of the request for review. If such an extension of time for review is required because of special circumstances, the BAC will provide the Claimant with written or electronic notice of the extension, describing the special circumstances and the date as of which the benefit determination will be made, prior to the commencement of the extension. The BAC will notify the Claimant of the benefit determination as soon as possible, but not later than 15 days after the benefit determination is made.

If your claim is denied on appeal, notification of the determination will contain the following:

- (a) The specific reason for the denial on appeal;
- (b) A reference to the specific Plan provisions on which the denial on appeal is based;
- (c) A statement that you are entitled to receive, upon request and free of charge, reasonable access to, and copies of, all documents, records, and other information relevant to your claim for benefits; and
- (d) A statement of your right to bring an action under Section 502(a) of ERISA no later than one (1) year after the final adverse determination on appeal.

If you choose to initiate a lawsuit in order to obtain a benefit from the Plan, you may not file your claim in court unless and until you have exhausted your rights under these claims procedures. Once you have exhausted your rights, you must file and argue your claim in the state court or any United States District Court of the state in which the Participant was last employed. Moreover, any action brought to enforce any claim or to obtain any benefit under this Plan must be filed no later than one (1) year after the date of the final claim appeal denial.

MISCELLANEOUS

Plan Administrative, Investment Expenses

The Plan is subject to various plan administrative and investment fees. These fees either are charged directly to your Account or reduce your investment return.

An annual administrative fee of $36 will be charged directly to your Account (applied $9 per quarter) for administrative and recordkeeping services and paid to Fidelity. Other fees may be charged directly to your Account and paid to Fidelity, such as loan processing fees or self-directed brokerage account fees if you establish one. See the section titled “Loans” and Addendum A – Your Investment Choices.

A second annual administrative fee of $9 will be charged directly to your Account ($2.25 per quarter) for other administrative expenses of the Plan, including investment advisory, special recordkeeping fees, trustee, custody, legal or other professional fees. This fee will be paid to the Plan’s expense account maintained by the BAC to manage certain Plan expenses. The Company may elect to pay one or more of these Plan expenses and will provide procedures for allocating them to Plan Accounts.

All reasonable expenses incurred in the administration of the Plan will be, to the maximum extent permissible, paid first from the Plan’s expense account and then from the Plan’s Forfeiture Account, provided, that, reasonable expenses relating to an individual Participant's Account that are paid from the Plan may be charged, in the discretion of the BAC, to that Participant's Account. Any amounts remaining in the Plan’s expense account at the end of a Plan Year will be allocated per capita to each employee, whether or not a Participant who has satisfied the Plan's eligibility requirements no later than the last day of that Plan Year and is an eligible employee on the last day of that Plan Year and credited to the Participant's Non-Safe Harbor Employer Sub-Account.

Lastly, various investment management fees and expenses, including related fund operational and administrative expenses, are paid from the investment funds under the Plan. These fees will be paid to the investment managers. Because these fees and expenses are paid from the investment funds, they reduce your investment return from the fund. For more information regarding these fees and expenses, see Addendum A – Your Investment Choices, Addendum B – Company Stock and Addendum C – Stable Value Fund.

For further information regarding the Plan's fees and expenses, and in particular the fees and expenses for the Plan's investment funds, you can call the Fidelity Service Center or visit www.netbenefits.com.

Assignment of Interest, Claims, Liens

Your interest in and rights under the Plan belong to you alone and may not be transferred, assigned or hypothecated in any way. No lien or encumbrance may be made on your Account, except for federal income tax liens.

Of course, amounts held in Accounts also may be security for a loan to you under the Plan. Also, your Account may become subject to a qualified domestic relations order, discussed below.

Qualified Domestic Relations Orders

If you become divorced or separated, certain court orders could require that part or all of your Account be paid to someone else, such as your spouse or children. As soon as you are aware of any court proceedings which may affect your Account, contact your local human resources representative.

Some or all of your Account may be paid to another person only pursuant to a qualified domestic relations order (“QDRO”). If a participant or attorney needs information about processing a QDRO, they should contact Fidelity by calling the Fidelity Service Center or over the internet at www.netbenefits.com. In the event of your death, your beneficiary should contact the Fidelity Service Center at 1-833-252-2244. The fees for QDROs will depend on whether the processing is completed online ($300) or manually ($1200).

All qualified domestic relations orders will be processed in accordance with the Plan’s QDRO procedures, which are available upon your request.

SITUATIONS AFFECTING PLAN BENEFITS

Some situations could cause loss or delay of your Plan benefits.

The Plan is designed to provide you with savings for your retirement income needs. But some situations could affect Plan benefits. Those situations are summarized here.

- If you fail to make proper application for benefits or fail to provide necessary information, your benefits could be delayed.
- If you do not keep your most recent address on file and the Company cannot locate you, your benefit payment may be delayed. Once you (or your beneficiary, if you should die) provide the Employer with a current address, benefit payments can be made.
- If your employment with Newell Brands Group ended before you became fully vested in certain of your Employer-Funded Accounts, the unvested portion will be forfeited.
- The value of your Accounts may decline if you incur investment losses.
- Your Accounts may not be sold, assigned, transferred, pledged, or garnished under most circumstances. However, if you become divorced or separated, certain court orders could require that part of your benefit be paid to someone else - your spouse or children, for example.
- If you or your beneficiary are unable to care for your own affairs, any payments due may be paid to someone who is authorized to conduct your or your beneficiary's affairs. This may be a relative, a court-appointed guardian, or some other person.

No Implied Promises

Nothing in this Summary Plan Description/Prospectus states or implies that participation in the Plan is a guarantee of continued employment or is a guarantee that contribution levels will remain unchanged.

PLAN AMENDMENTS OR TERMINATION

The Plan is subject to change or termination.

Although the Plan is intended to be permanent, the Company reserves the right to change or terminate this Plan at any time or to permanently discontinue contributions at any time. If material changes are made to the Plan in the future, you will be informed.

Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974

The Plan is subject to the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974 (“ERISA”) and is governed by the reporting, disclosure, participation, vesting and fiduciary responsibility rules of ERISA.

Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation (PBGC)

The provisions of Title IV relating to pension plan termination insurance and the Pension Benefit Guaranty Corporation (“PBGC”) are not applicable to the Plan. The Plan is a defined contribution plan and is not insured through the PBGC.

YOUR RIGHTS UNDER ERISA

By law, you have certain rights under ERISA.

As a participant in the Plan, you are entitled to certain rights and protections under ERISA. ERISA provides that all Plan participants will be entitled to:

Receive Information About Your Plan and Benefits

- Examine, without charge, at the Plan Administrator's office and at other specified locations, such as work sites and union halls, all Plan documents, including insurance contracts and collective bargaining agreements, and a copy of the latest annual report (Form 5500 series) filed by the Plan Administrator with the U.S. Department of Labor and available at the Public Disclosure Room of the Employee Benefits Security Administration.
- Obtain, upon written request to the Plan Administrator, copies of all Plan documents, including insurance contracts and collective bargaining agreements, and copies of the latest annual report (Form 5500 Series) and updated Summary Plan Description/Prospectus. The Plan Administrator may make a reasonable charge for the copies.
- Receive a summary of the Plan's annual financial report. The Plan Administrator is required by law to furnish each participant with a copy of this summary annual report.
- Obtain a statement of your Account under the Plan. You must direct this request in writing to the Plan Administrator. You may request a statement only once a year and the Plan must provide the statement free of charge.

Prudent Actions by Plan Fiduciaries

In addition to creating rights for Plan participants, ERISA imposes duties upon the people who are responsible for the operation of the Plan. The people who operate your Plan, called fiduciaries of the Plan, have a duty to do so prudently and in the interest of you and the other Plan participants and beneficiaries. No one, including your employer, your union, or any other person, may fire you or otherwise discriminate against you in any way to prevent you from obtaining a Plan benefit or exercising your rights under ERISA.

Enforce Your Rights

If your claim for a benefit is denied or ignored, in whole or in part, you have a right to know why this was done, to obtain copies of documents relating to the decision without charge, and to appeal any denial, all within certain time schedules.

Under ERISA, there are steps you can take to enforce the above rights. For instance, if you request a copy of Plan documents or the latest annual report from the Plan and do not receive them within 30 days, you may file suit in a Federal court. In such a case, the court may require the Plan Administrator to provide the materials and pay you up to $110 a day until you receive the materials, unless the materials were not sent because of reasons beyond the control of the administrator. If you have a claim for benefits which is denied or ignored, in whole or in part, you may file suit in a state or Federal court. In addition, if you disagree with the Plan's decision or lack thereof concerning the qualified status of a domestic relations order, you may file suit in Federal court. If it should happen that Plan fiduciaries misuse the Plan's money, or if you are discriminated against for asserting your rights, you may seek assistance from the U.S. Department of Labor, or you may file suit in a Federal court. The court will decide who should pay court costs and legal fees. If you are successful, the court may order the person you have sued to pay these costs and fees. If you lose, the court may order you to pay these costs and fees, for example, if it finds your claim is frivolous.

Assistance with Your Questions

If you have any questions about your Plan, you should contact the Plan Administrator. If you have any questions about this statement or your rights under ERISA, or if you need assistance in obtaining documents from the Plan Administrator, you should contact the nearest office of the Employee Benefits Security Administration, U.S. Department of Labor, listed in your telephone directory or contact the Division of Technical Assistance and Inquiries, Employee Benefits Security Administration, U.S. Department of Labor, 200 Constitution Avenue, N.W., Washington, DC 20210. You may also obtain certain publications about your rights and responsibilities under ERISA by calling the publications hotline of the Employee Benefits Security Administration.

ADDENDUM A - YOUR INVESTMENT CHOICES (JANUARY 1, 2025)

You may direct contributions in your Accounts to one or more of the funds available for investment.

Your Elective Deferrals, Roth Contributions, Matching Contributions, Rollover Contributions, Roth Rollover Contributions, Prior Plan Accounts (if any), Retirement Savings Contributions (if any) and Transition Retirement Contributions (if any) are held in a trust fund.

When you enroll, you will have to make investment fund choices. Your investment choices will apply to all of the contributions in your Account. Here is a brief summary of the investment choices (“Investment Funds”) that are currently available:

Cash Alternatives

- Managed Income Portfolio II Class 3

Objective: The fund seeks to preserve your principal investment while earning a level of interest income that is consistent with principal preservation. The fund seeks to maintain a stable net asset value (NAV) of $1 per share, but it cannot guarantee that it will be able to do so. The yield of the fund will fluctuate.

Strategy: The fund invests in benefit-responsive investment contracts issued by insurance companies and other financial institutions (“Contracts”), fixed income securities, and money market funds. Under the terms of the Contracts, the assets of the fund are invested in fixed income securities (which may include, but are not limited to, U.S. Treasury and agency bonds, corporate bonds, mortgage-backed securities, commercial mortgage-backed securities, asset-backed securities, and collective investment vehicles and shares of investment companies that invest primarily in fixed income securities) and shares of money market funds. The fund may also invest in futures contracts, option contracts, and swap agreements. Fidelity Management Trust Company, as investment manager and trustee of the Fidelity Group Trust for Employee Benefit Plans, has claimed an exemption from registration under the Commodity Exchange Act and is not subject to registration or regulation under the Act. At the time of purchase, all Contracts and securities purchased for the fund must satisfy the credit quality standards specified in the Declaration of Separate Fund.

Risk: The Contracts and securities purchased for the fund are backed solely by the financial resources of the issuers of such Contracts and securities. An investment in the fund is not insured or guaranteed by the manager(s), the plan sponsor, the trustee, the FDIC, or any other government agency. The Contracts purchased by the fund permit the fund to account for the fixed income securities at book value (principal plus interest accrued to date). Through the use of book value accounting, there is no immediate recognition of investment gains and losses on the fund's securities. Instead, gains and losses are recognized over time by periodically adjusting the interest rate credited to the fund under the Contracts. However, while the fund seeks to preserve your principal investment, it is possible to lose money by investing in this fund. The Contracts provide for the payment of certain withdrawals and exchanges at book value during the terms of the Contracts. In order to maintain the Contract issuers' promise to pay such withdrawals and exchanges at book value, the Contracts subject the fund and its participants to certain restrictions. For example, withdrawals prompted by certain events (e.g., layoffs, early retirement windows, spin-offs, sale of a division, facility closings, plan terminations, partial plan terminations, changes in laws or regulations) may be paid at the market value of the fund's securities, which may be less than your book value balance. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available. Certain investment options offered by your plan (e.g., money market funds, short term bond funds, certain asset allocation/lifecycle funds and brokerage window) may be deemed by the Contract issuers to “compete” with this fund. The terms of the Contracts prohibit you from making a direct exchange from this fund to such competing funds. Instead, you must first exchange to a non-competing fund for 90 days. While these requirements may seem restrictive, they are imposed by the Contract issuers as a condition for the issuer's promise to pay certain withdrawals and exchanges at book value.

On May 3, 1999, an initial offering of the Managed Income Portfolio II Class 3 took place. Returns and expenses prior to that date are those of the Managed Income Portfolio II Class 1. Had class 3 expenses been reflected in the returns shown, total returns would have been higher.

Management Fee includes the costs associated with managing the investments in the pool. The management fee does not include the wrap contract fees, which are paid to third party wrap providers and do not result in any additional compensation to Fidelity. The wrap contract fees are not separately stated but are included in the Expense Ratio and do reduce returns.

Expense Ratio (Gross) includes management and wrap contract fees. For certain investments, it may also include distribution fees. Please note that the Gross and Net Expense Ratio are the same for this investment.

Bonds

• FIAM Core Plus Commingled Pool Class N

Objective: The pool seeks to achieve returns that exceed the Bloomberg U.S. Aggregate Bond Index (the "Benchmark") through direct or indirect investments in investment-grade and non-investment grade fixed income securities.

Strategy: The Core Plus discipline seeks to outperform the Bloomberg US Aggregate Bond Index by investing in investment-grade and five extended Plus sectors (high yield, emerging market debt, leveraged loan, global bond, and high yield CMBS). A typical core plus portfolio has 0%-30% exposure to non-investment grade sectors.

Risk: In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Unlike individual bonds, most bond funds do not have a maturity date, so avoiding losses caused by price volatility by holding them until maturity is not possible. The pool may use futures, options and swaps to take advantage of changes in securities prices, interest rates and other factors affecting value and/or to maintain liquidity. While the use of futures, options, and swaps have their own risk and could decrease the value of the pool, any use in the pool is limited to risk reduction purposes and managing cash.

Short-term redemption fee: None

Who may want to invest: Someone who is seeking potential returns primarily in the form of interest income rather than through an increase in share price; Someone who is seeking to diversify an equity portfolio with a more conservative investment option. - Newell Brands Inc. Common Stock Fund

Objective: Seeks to increase the value of your investment over the long term by investing in the stock of your employer or its affiliate.

Strategy: Invests in the stock of Newell Brands Inc. Company Stock. Performance is directly tied to the performance of the company, as well as to that of the stock market as a whole. When you exchange into or out of this stock, your transaction is generally processed on a real-time basis. Other purchase and sale requests such as contributions, distributions or other transactions, are aggregated and stock orders are typically sent to market on the following business day. These transactions, which may take multiple days to complete in some circumstances, are based on the volume-weighted average trade price. The amount of an investment option that may be sold to exchange into stock is subject to reserve requirements. Industry-standard settlement periods apply to sales of stock. Commissions and other transaction fees will apply to transactions involving this investment.

Risk: If you invest a significant portion of your retirement savings in any one company or industry, your savings may not be properly diversified. Although diversification is not a guarantee against loss, it can be an effective strategy to help you manage investment risk. This is neither a mutual fund nor a diversified or managed investment option. Investing in a non-diversified, unmanaged single stock inherently involves more investment risk than investing in a diversified fund. As with any stock, the value of your investment may go up or down depending on how the company's stock performs in the market. Share price and return will vary. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Who may want to invest: Someone who wants to own part of the company they may work for and share in the gains or losses of its stock; Someone whose investment portfolio can withstand the higher risk of investment in a single stock.

This investment option is a real-time traded company stock fund. This description is only intended to provide a brief overview of the fund.

To help achieve long-term retirement security, you should give careful consideration to the benefits of a well-balanced and diversified investment portfolio. Spreading your assets among different types of investments can help you achieve a favorable rate of return, while minimizing your overall risk of losing money. This is because market or other economic conditions that cause one category of assets, or one particular security, to perform very well often cause another asset category, or other particular security to perform poorly. If you invest more than 20% of your retirement savings in any one company or industry, your savings may not be properly diversified. Although diversification is not a guarantee against loss, it is an effective strategy to help manage your investment risk.

You have the right to direct Fidelity Management Trust Company ("The Trustee") concerning shareholder rights, such as the right to vote or tender, for all shares of Newell Brands Inc. - State Street Global All Cap Equity Ex-U.S. Index Securities Lending Series Fund Class X

Objective: The State Street Global All Cap Equity ex-U.S. Index Fund (the "Fund") seeks an investment return that approximates as closely as practicable, before expenses, the performance of the MSCI ACWI ex- USA IMI Index (the "Index") over the long term.

Strategy: The Fund is managed using an "indexing" investment approach, by which SSGA attempts to approximate, before expenses, the performance of the Index over the long term. SSGA will typically attempt to invest in the equity securities comprising the Index, in approximately the same proportions as they are represented in the Index. Equity securities may include common stocks, preferred stocks, depository receipts, or other securities convertible into common stock. Equity securities held by the Fund may be denominated in foreign currencies and may be held outside the United States. In some cases, it may not be possible or practicable to purchase all of the securities comprising the Index, or to hold them in the same weightings as they represent in the Index. In those circumstances, SSGA may employ a sampling or optimization technique to construct the portfolio in question.

From time to time securities are added to or removed from the Index. SSGA may sell securities that are represented in the Index, or purchase securities that are not yet represented in the Index, prior to or after their removal or addition to the Index. SSGA may also utilize other pooled investment vehicles, including those managed by SSGA and its affiliates, as substitutes for gaining direct exposure to securities or a group of securities in the Index.

The Fund may at times purchase or sell index futures contracts, or options on those futures, or engage in other transactions involving the use of derivatives, in lieu of investment directly in the securities making up the Index or to enhance the Fund's replication of the Index return. The Fund's return may not match the return of the Index.

Risk: Foreign securities are subject to interest-rate, currency-exchange-rate, economic, and political risks, all of which may be magnified in emerging markets. Value and growth stocks can perform differently from other types of stocks. Growth stocks can be more volatile. Value stocks can continue to be undervalued by the market for long periods of time. Stock markets are volatile and can decline significantly in response to adverse issuer, political, regulatory, market, economic or other developments. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

- State Street S&P 500® Index Securities Lending Series Fund Class X

Objective: The State Street S&P 500® Index Fund (the "Fund") seeks an investment return that approximates as closely as practicable, before expenses, the performance of the S&P 500® (the "Index") over the long term.

Strategy: The Fund is managed using an "indexing" investment approach, by which SSGA attempts to approximate, before expenses, the performance of the Index over the long term. SSGA will typically attempt to invest in the equity securities comprising the Index, in approximately the same proportions as they are represented in the Index. Equity securities may include common stocks, preferred stocks, depository receipts, or other securities convertible into common stock. The Fund may purchase securities in their initial public offerings ("IPOs"). In some cases, it may not be possible or practicable to purchase all of the securities comprising the Index, or to hold them in the same weightings as they represent in the Index. In those circumstances, SSGA may employ a sampling or optimization technique to construct the portfolio in question.

From time to time securities are added to or removed from the Index. SSGA may sell securities that are represented in the Index, or purchase securities that are not yet represented in the Index, prior to or after their removal or addition to the Index.

The Fund may at times purchase or sell index futures contracts, or options on those futures, or engage in other transactions involving the use of derivatives, in lieu of investment directly in the securities making up the Index or to enhance the Fund's replication of the Index return. The Fund's return may not match the return of the Index.

Risk: Value and growth stocks can perform differently from other types of stocks. Growth stocks can be more volatile. Value stocks can continue to be undervalued by the market for long periods of time. Who may want to invest: Someone who is seeking the potential for long-term share-price appreciation; Someone who is seeking both growth- and value-style investments and who is willing to accept the volatility associated with investing in the stock market. - State Street U.S. Bond Index Securities Lending Series Fund Class X

Objective: The Fund seeks an investment return that approximates as closely as practicable, before expenses, the performance of the Bloomberg U.S. Aggregate Bond Index (the "Index") over the long term.

Strategy: The Fund is managed using an "indexing" investment approach, by which SSGA attempts to approximate, before expenses, the performance of the Index over the long term. The Fund will not necessarily own all of the securities included in the Index.

The Fund may attempt to invest in the securities comprising the Index, in the same proportions as they are represented in the Index. However, due to the diverse composition of securities in the Index and the fact that many of the securities comprising the Index may be unavailable for purchase, it may not be possible for the Fund to purchase some of the securities comprising the Index. In such a case, SSGA will select securities for the Fund comprising a portfolio that SSGA expects will provide a return comparable to that of the Index.

SSGA expects that it will typically seek to replicate Index returns for the Portfolio through investments in the "cash" markets - actual holdings of debt securities and other instruments - rather than through "notional" or "synthetic" positions achieved through the use of derivatives, such as futures contracts or swap transactions (except in the unusual case where SSGA believes that use of derivatives is necessary to achieve an exposure that is not readily available through the cash markets). The Fund's return may not match the return of the Index.

Risk: In general the bond market is volatile, and fixed income securities carry interest rate risk. (As interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall, and vice versa. This effect is usually more pronounced for longer-term securities.) Fixed income securities also carry inflation risk and credit and default risks for both issuers and counterparties. Unlike individual bonds, most bond funds do not have a maturity date, so avoiding losses caused by price volatility by holding them until maturity is not possible. Additional risk information for this product may be found in the prospectus or other product materials, if available.

Asset Allocation – Target Date Retirement Funds

- Fidelity Freedom Blend 2010 Commingled Pool Class B

Objective: Seeks high current income and, as a secondary objective, capital appreciation.

Strategy: Designed for investors who anticipate retiring in or within a few years of the commingled pool's target retirement year at or around age 65. Investing primarily in a combination of Fidelity U.S. equity, non-U.S. equity, bond, and short-term pools and funds, some of which are actively managed and others of which are passively managed, meaning they seek to provide investment results that correspond to the total return of a specific index. Allocating assets among underlying Fidelity pools and funds according to a "strategic" asset allocation strategy that adjusts over time until it reaches an allocation similar to that of the Fidelity Freedom Blend Income Commingled Pool approximately 10 to 19 years after the target year. Ultimately, the commingled pool may merge with the Fidelity Freedom Blend Income Commingled Pool. Fidelity Institutional Asset Management Trust Company (the Adviser) may modify a commingled pool's strategic asset allocations from time to time when in the interests of investors. The Adviser may buy and sell futures contracts (both long and short positions) in an effort to manage cash flows efficiently, remain fully invested, or facilitate asset allocation. The Adviser may use an active asset allocation strategy to increase or decrease asset class exposures relative to the strategic asset allocations by up to 10% for equity, bond, and short-term pools and funds to reflect the Adviser's market outlook, which is primarily focused on the intermediate term.

Risk: Investment performance of the Fidelity Freedom Blend Commingled Pool products depends on the performance of the underlying investment options and on the proportion of the assets invested in each underlying investment option. The investment risk of each Fidelity Freedom Blend Commingled Pool changes over time as its asset allocation changes. These risks are subject to the asset allocation decisions of the portfolio manager. Pursuant to Fidelity Institutional Asset Management Trust Company's (the Adviser) ability to use an active asset allocation strategy, investors may be subject to a different risk profile compared to the commingled pool's strategic asset allocation strategy shown in its glide path. The commingled pools are subject to the volatility of the financial markets, including that of equity and fixed income investments in the U.S. and abroad, and may be subject to risks associated with investing in high-yield, small-cap, commodity-linked and foreign securities. The commingled pools are subject to the risks associated with investing in a passively managed underlying pool in which the passively managed underlying pool's performance could be lower than an actively managed pool that shifts its portfolio assets to take advantage of market opportunities or lessen the impact of a market decline or a decline in the value of one or more issuers. Leverage can increase market exposure, magnify investment risks, and cause losses to be realized more quickly. The Adviser may buy and sell futures contracts (both long and short positions) in a commingled pool in an effort to manage cash flows efficiently, remain fully invested, or facilitate asset allocation. No target date investment option is considered a complete retirement program, and there is no guarantee any single investment option will provide sufficient retirement income at or through retirement. Principal invested is not guaranteed at any time, including at or after the pools' target date.

Short-term redemption fee: None

Who may want to invest: Someone who is seeking an investment option intended for people in or very near retirement and who is willing to accept the volatility of diversified investments in the market; Someone who is seeking a diversified mix of stocks, bonds, and short-term investments in one investment option or who does not feel comfortable making asset allocation choices over time.

Strategy: Designed for investors who anticipate retiring in or within a few years of the commingled pool's target retirement year at or around age 65. Investing primarily in a combination of Fidelity U.S. equity, non-U.S. equity, bond, and short-term pools and funds, some of which are actively managed and others of which are passively managed, meaning they seek to provide investment results that correspond to the total return of a specific index. Allocating assets among underlying Fidelity pools and funds according to a "strategic" asset allocation strategy that adjusts over time until it reaches an allocation similar to that of the Fidelity Freedom Blend Income Commingled Pool approximately 10 to 19 years after the target year. Ultimately, the commingled pool may merge with the Fidelity Freedom Blend Income Commingled Pool. Fidelity Institutional Asset Management Trust Company (the Adviser) may modify a commingled pool's strategic asset allocations from time to time when in the interests of investors. The Adviser may buy and sell futures contracts (both long and short positions) in an effort to manage cash flows efficiently, remain fully invested, or facilitate asset allocation. The Adviser may use an active asset allocation strategy to increase or decrease asset class exposures relative to the strategic asset allocations by up to 10% for equity, bond, and short-term pools and funds to reflect the Adviser's market outlook, which is primarily focused on the intermediate term.

Risk: Investment performance of the Fidelity Freedom Blend Commingled Pool products depends on the performance of the underlying investment options and on the proportion of the assets invested in each underlying investment option. The investment risk of each Fidelity Freedom Blend Commingled Pool changes over time as its asset allocation changes. These risks are subject to the asset allocation decisions of the portfolio manager. Pursuant to Fidelity Institutional Asset Management Trust Company's (the Adviser) ability to use an active asset allocation strategy, investors may be subject to a different risk profile compared to the commingled pool's strategic asset allocation strategy shown in its glide path. The commingled pools are subject to the volatility of the financial markets, including that of equity and fixed income investments in the U.S. and abroad, and may be subject to risks associated with investing in high-yield, small-cap, commodity-linked and foreign securities. The commingled pools are subject to the risks associated with investing in a passively managed underlying pool in which the passively managed underlying pool's performance could be lower than an actively managed pool that shifts its portfolio assets to take advantage of market opportunities or lessen the impact of a market decline or a decline in the value of one or more issuers. Leverage can increase market exposure, magnify investment risks, and cause losses to be realized more quickly. The Adviser may buy and sell futures contracts (both long and short positions) in a commingled pool in an effort to manage cash flows efficiently, remain fully invested, or facilitate asset allocation. No target date investment option is considered a complete retirement program, and there is no guarantee any single investment option will provide sufficient retirement income at or through retirement. Principal invested is not guaranteed at any time, including at or after the pools' target date.

Short-term redemption fee: None

- Fidelity Freedom Blend 2055 Commingled Pool Class B

Objective: Seeks high total return until its target retirement date. Thereafter, the pool's objective will be to seek high current income and, as a secondary objective, capital appreciation.

Strategy: Designed for investors who anticipate retiring in or within a few years of the commingled pool's target retirement year at or around age 65. Investing primarily in a combination of Fidelity U.S. equity, non-U.S. equity, bond, and short-term pools and funds, some of which are actively managed and others of which are passively managed, meaning they seek to provide investment results that correspond to the total return of a specific index. Allocating assets among underlying Fidelity pools and funds according to a "strategic" asset allocation strategy that adjusts over time until it reaches an allocation similar to that of the Fidelity Freedom Blend Income Commingled Pool approximately 10 to 19 years after the target year. Ultimately, the commingled pool may merge with the Fidelity Freedom Blend Income Commingled Pool. Fidelity Institutional Asset Management Trust Company (the Adviser) may modify a commingled pool's strategic asset allocations from time to time when in the interests of investors. The Adviser may buy and sell futures contracts (both long and short positions) in an effort to manage cash flows efficiently, remain fully invested, or facilitate asset allocation. The Adviser may use an active asset allocation strategy to increase or decrease asset class exposures relative to the strategic asset allocations by up to 10% for equity, bond, and short-term pools and funds to reflect the Adviser's market outlook, which is primarily focused on the intermediate term.

Risk: Investment performance of the Fidelity Freedom Blend Commingled Pool products depends on the performance of the underlying investment options and on the proportion of the assets invested in each underlying investment option. The investment risk of each Fidelity Freedom Blend Commingled Pool changes over time as its asset allocation changes. These risks are subject to the asset allocation decisions of the portfolio manager. Pursuant to Fidelity Institutional Asset Management Trust Company's (the Adviser) ability to use an active asset allocation strategy, investors may be subject to a different risk profile compared to the commingled pool's strategic asset allocation strategy shown in its glide path. The commingled pools are subject to the volatility of the financial markets, including that of equity and fixed income investments in the U.S. and abroad, and may be subject to risks associated with investing in high-yield, small-cap, commodity-linked and foreign securities. The commingled pools are subject to the risks associated with investing in a passively managed underlying pool in which the passively managed underlying pool's performance could be lower than an actively managed pool that shifts its portfolio assets to take advantage of market opportunities or lessen the impact of a market decline or a decline in the value of one or more issuers. Leverage can increase market exposure, magnify investment risks, and cause losses to be realized more quickly. The Adviser may buy and sell futures contracts (both long and short positions) in a commingled pool in an effort to manage cash flows efficiently, remain fully invested, or facilitate asset allocation. No target date investment option is considered a complete retirement program, and there is no guarantee any single investment option will provide sufficient retirement income at or through retirement. Principal invested is not guaranteed at any time, including at or after the pools' target date.

Short-term redemption fee: None

Objective: Seeks high total current income and, as a secondary objective, capital appreciation.

Strategy: Investing primarily in a combination of Fidelity U.S. equity, non-U.S. equity, bond, and short-term pools and funds, some of which are actively managed and others of which are passively managed, meaning they seek to provide investment results that correspond to the total return of a specific index. Allocating assets among underlying pools according to a stable "strategic" asset allocation strategy (approximately 11% in U.S. equity, 8% in non-U.S. equity, 43% in U.S. investment grade bond, 5% in non-U.S. bond, 3% in long-term treasury bond, 20% in inflation-protected bond, and 10% in short-term pools and funds). Fidelity Institutional Asset Management Trust Company (the Adviser) may modify the commingled pool's strategic asset allocations from time to time when in the interests of shareholders. The Adviser may buy and sell futures contracts (both long and short positions) in an effort to manage cash flows efficiently, remain fully invested, or facilitate asset allocation. Through an active asset allocation strategy, the Adviser may increase or decrease strategic asset class exposures by up to 10% for equity, bond and short-term strategies to reflect the Adviser's market outlook, which is primarily focused on the intermediate term.

Risk: Investment performance of the Fidelity Freedom Blend Commingled Pool strategies depends on the performance of the underlying investment options and on the proportion of the assets invested in each underlying investment option. The commingled pool is subject to the volatility of the financial markets, including that of equity and fixed income investments. Fixed income investments entail issuer default and credit risk, inflation risk, and interest rate risk (as interest rates rise, bond prices usually fall and vice versa). This effect is usually more pronounced for longer term securities. The commingled pools are subject to the risks associated with investing in a passively managed underlying pool and fund in which the passively managed underlying pool and fund's performance could be lower than an actively managed pool and fund that shifts its portfolio assets to take advantage of market opportunities or lessen the impact of a market decline or a decline in the value of one or more issuers. Leverage can increase market exposure, magnify investment risks, and cause losses to be realized more quickly. Automatic Rebalancing

The Plan offers automatic rebalancing of your investments. Rebalancing means adjusting your investments to help ensure you maintain the mix of investments you originally selected to meet your long-term goals.

Your original asset allocation may have changed since you first joined the Plan because of additional contributions, fluctuations in the market and investment performance. For example, if you invested 60% in stocks and 40% in bonds when you enrolled in the Plan, your Account may now be invested 50% in stocks and 50% in bonds, and this asset allocation may not be in line with your retirement goals.

With the Plan's automatic rebalancing feature, adjustments will be made automatically to your current asset allocation to correspond to your original asset allocation. When you elect this option, your Account will be automatically balanced on a scheduled basis. Because your Account will rebalance according to your future contribution elections, you may want to check your elections to make sure they are still in line with your goals.

To sign up for this service, you may wish to log on to www.netbenefits.com using your Username and Password, click on the Plan name and under the Account Management menu, choose Manage Investments and click Auto-Rebalance Your Account and follow the instructions.

Fees and Expenses

If you have an account in the Plan, it may be subject to the following types of fees and expenses:

- Asset-based fees
- Plan administrative fees and expenses
- Individual fees and expenses

Asset-Based Fees

Asset-based fees reflect an investment option's total annual operating expenses and include management and other fees. They are often the largest component of retirement plan costs and are paid by all shareholders of the investment option. Typically, asset-based fees are reflected as a percentage of assets invested in the option and often are referred to as an “expense ratio.” You may multiply the expense ratio by your balance in the investment option to estimate the annual expenses associated with your holdings.

Asset-based fees are deducted from an investment option's assets, thereby reducing its investment return. Fee levels can vary widely among investment options, depending in part on the type of investment option, its management (including whether it is active or passive), and the risks and complexities of the option's strategy. In some instances, a Plan's administrative services may be paid for through offsets and/or payments associated with a Plan's investment options.

Plan Administrative Fees and Expenses

Plan administrative fees may include recordkeeping, legal, accounting, trustee, and other administrative fees and expenses associated with maintaining the Plan. Some Plans may deduct these fees and expenses from individual accounts in the Plan.

Based on the information and direction Fidelity had at the time this Notice was prepared, the Plan administrative fees listed below may be deducted from accounts in the Plan.

Type of Plan Administrative Fee	Amount
Recordkeeping Fee	$36.00 per year, deducted quarterly
Non-Fidelity Fee(s)	$9.00 per year, deducted quarterly

If any Plan administrative fees are deducted directly from your Account, they will be reflected on your Plan account statement.

Individual Fees and Expenses

Additional Information

‡‡ You are not permitted to make a direct exchange from Managed Income Portfolio II Class 3 into the following fund(s), which are considered "competing fund(s)": • Fidelity® Government Money Market Fund Premium Class. Before exchanging from Managed Income Portfolio II Class 3 into the competing fund(s), you must first exchange to a non-competing fund for 90 days. These requirements are typically imposed by issuers such as insurance companies, banks, or other approved financial institutions as a condition for issuing investment contracts to retirement plans.

§ Excessive trading in this investment option and/or other investment options subject to such restrictions will result in the limitation or prohibition of additional purchases (other than contributions and loan repayments) for 85 calendar days; additional excessive trading will result in limitation of one exchange day per calendar quarter for a 12-month period.

*Performance provided is Life of Fund, which is since the inception date noted, when the investment option has been in existence for less than 10 years. Life of fund figures are from the inception date to the period shown. For unitized funds, the inception date shown may be that of the fund's underlying investment option. For non-mutual fund pools and trusts whose strategies may be offered to multiple clients and whose returns may be based on a composite, the inception date shown may be the beginning date of the composite's returns.

Total returns are historical and include change in share price and reinvestment of dividends and capital gains, if any. These figures do not include the effect of sales charges, if any, as these fees are waived for contributions made through your retirement plan. If sales charges were included, returns would have been lower.

Further information covering the operations of Section 16 to insiders will be provided by Newell Brands.

Additionally, if you are an executive officer, director, or other insider, Newell Brands will limit your ability to purchase, sell, or otherwise acquire or transfer an interest in Company Stock each fiscal quarter. Specifically, such individuals will be prohibited from making changes to their investment in Company Stock under the Plan beginning 30 days prior to Newell Brand's quarterly filing of its Form 10-Q with the Commission. This temporary suspension in trade will end on the later of (i) the next trading day following the release of Newell Brand's earnings for the quarter, or (ii) the date that the executive officer, director, or other insider no longer has material non-public information.

In this regard, prior to any shareholders meeting at which Common Stock is entitled to be voted, or if there is a tender offer made for the Common Stock, you will receive information from the Trustee with instructions on how to exercise your voting or tender rights. These instructions will include any possible restrictions on the exercise of any voting, tender, and transfer rights to or from a designated investment alternative.

If you do not exercise your voting rights in the Fund, the Trustee will vote the shares representing your portion of this Fund proportionately in the same manner as it votes Common Stock for which it has received voting instructions.

If you do not exercise your tender rights, the shares representing your portion of this Fund will not be tendered except by action of the Trustee or other fiduciary. If you exercise your tender rights, the proceeds obtained when your shares of Common Stock are sold will be invested in the Investment Funds, other than this Fund, in accordance with your investment elections, or in the absence of any election, in accordance with procedures established by the Plan Administrator.

If you choose to invest in a designated investment alternative to this Fund, you will be provided with any information relating to the voting, tender and transfer rights incidental to the holding of an ownership interest in this investment alternative to the extent that those rights are passed on directly to you.

Plan Status Under ERISA

The Plan is designed to comply with the Employee Retirement Income Security Act of 1974, as amended ("ERISA"). The Plan is subject to many of the provisions of Title I and Title II of ERISA, including those dealing with reporting, disclosure, participation, vesting and fiduciary responsibility. The Plan is not subject to the federal pension insurance provisions of Title IV of ERISA.

Plan Status Under Internal Revenue Code

The Plan is designed to qualify as a contributory cash or deferred profit sharing plan under Sections 401(a) and 401(k) of the Internal Revenue Code, and the regulations thereunder, in order that the related trust may qualify as a tax-exempt trust under Section 501(a) of the Internal Revenue Code.

The Plan will be a custom designed profit sharing plan with a cash or deferred arrangement and a matching contribution feature intended to satisfy the safe harbor requirements under Treasury Regulation Section 1.401(k)-3(c) and 1.401(m)-3(c). The IRS issued a favorable determination letter on the form of the Prior Plan dated December 5, 2014. Newell Brands may generally rely on this letter in determining that the form of the Plan continues to meet the qualification requirements under Sections 401(a) and 401(k) of the Internal Revenue Code.

Newell Brands does not represent or guarantee that the Plan is or will be considered qualified, that the trust fund under the Plan is or will be exempt from tax, or that favorable tax benefits are or will be provided to participants or their beneficiaries entitled to benefits under the Plan.

Important Decisions

If you are eligible to be a participant, you must decide whether you wish to make Elective Deferrals to the Plan. If you do so, you must decide what your rate of Elective Deferrals will be initially and whether and when you wish to change your rate of contributions. If you do contribute to the Plan, you should also consider how you want your Elective Deferrals and any Matching Contributions made on your behalf invested and whether and when you wish to change your investment directions.

You must also consider whether and when you wish to change the investment of any existing account balance. The Plan permits participants, and their beneficiaries entitled to Plan benefits, to direct the investment of their Plan account balance in any of the designated investment options offered under the Plan in such proportions as they may select, provided that participants may not direct that more than 20% of all contributions for any payroll period that are made on behalf of the participant be invested in the Fund. Further, participants are permitted to transfer (by exchange, rebalancing or otherwise) any portion of their account that is invested in an investment fund other than the Fund to the Company Stock Fund, to the extent that doing so will not cause the percentage of the participant's account that is invested in the Fund to exceed 20% of his or her account balance.

Periodically, you must consider how Common Stock allocated to your Account will be voted. Common Stock held in the Plan for the benefit of a participant, or his or her beneficiary entitled to Plan benefits, may be voted in the manner directed by the person for whom such shares are held.

ADDENDUM C - STABLE VALUE FUND

Set forth below is additional information about investing in the Stable Value Fund.

Fund Structure

The Stable Value Fund is not a mutual fund or collective investment fund. It is a separately managed account established for the beneficial interest of its unit holders. Unit holders are limited to the Plan. Participants of the Plan who invest in the Stable Value Fund will hold units of the Stable Value Fund.

Investor Type

- Investors seeking minimal fluctuations in principal investment.
- Investors looking for a competitive market interest rate with minimal overall risk.
- Investors willing to trade lower return potential for lower risk.
- Investors looking to balance the volatility of equity investments by adding a fund designed to preserve principal into their portfolio allocation.

Investment Objective

The Stable Value Fund's objective is to produce a stable and predictable return while avoiding negative returns. In most market environments, it should provide investors with a higher return than a money market fund while striving to maintain liquidity for participant-initiated transactions and safety of principal.

The Stable Value Fund is considered conservative because it is designed to minimize the fluctuations in principal value that may be experienced in stock and bond funds. The trade-off for the lower risk of this investment is the potential for a lower return than that earned in other options.

Investment Strategy

The Stable Value Fund typically invests in a diversified portfolio of high quality bonds, including U.S. Government securities, corporate bonds, mortgage-backed and asset-backed securities and cash equivalents. The bonds are generally wrapped by investment contracts (also known as wrap contracts) issued by high quality financial institutions such as insurance companies and banks.

The interest rate earned by the Stable Value Fund is a blend of the rates earned by all of the contracts in the Fund. Each contract's interest rate reflects the earnings rates of its underlying bonds, adjusted for differences between actual and expected earnings. Adjustments to the contract interest rate may reduce a contract's yield to zero, but it cannot fall below zero. By design, the Stable Value Fund's blended interest rate should change in the direction of new investment rates. Over time, the Fund's returns are expected to be comparable to the returns generated by intermediate-term, high quality bonds.

Stable Value Contracts

Wrap contracts help to protect the Stable Value Fund's principal by smoothing the price fluctuations in the bonds that they cover. Wrap contract issuers agree to maintain the book value (principal plus interest) of the Fund's fixed income securities (the covered assets) and other instruments covered by the contract, up to specified amounts and subject to certain limitations. In addition, under certain adverse market conditions and if the conditions of the contract are satisfied, the wrap issuer may be required to make payments to the Fund if the Fund's assets are insufficient to satisfy participant-initiated redemptions at book value.

Wrap contracts specify a formula for calculating the crediting rate, or interest rate, for the assets they cover, which in turn is used in determining the Fund's investment return or earnings for investors. The crediting rate is based on the yield to maturity of the covered assets, but also includes adjustments for differences between the market value and the book value of the covered assets. Adjustments to the crediting rate in a wrap contract that provides book value coverage may reduce its yield to (but not below) zero.

Portfolio Quality by S&P Ratings

As the Stable Value Fund seeks to preserve principal value, the Stable Value Fund's investment manager, Fidelity Management Trust Company ("Fidelity") controls risk by purchasing high quality, well diversified investments. Credit quality is the foundation on which investment decisions for the portfolio are based. The Fund seeks to maintain a minimum average credit quality of the portfolio as a whole of AA by S&P and/or Aa by Moody's.

Risk

The Stable Value Fund is a conservative option and carries relatively low risk. However, the Fund's investment contracts and the underlying bonds are not guaranteed by the U.S. Government, Newell Brands or Fidelity.

Please visit www.netbenefits.com for more information regarding the credit quality and diversification of investments held in the Fund. Also, refer to your Fund Fact Sheet for this Fund for various risk factors for the Fund.

Performance Data

A summary of the investment performance for the Stable Value Fund is set forth in the quarterly statements sent to each participant.

Fund Manager

Fidelity is among the largest managers of stable value portfolios in the country.

Fees

Participants investing in the Stable Value Fund will incur trustee, accounting, valuation and investment management fees as fund level fees which reduce the earnings of the Stable Value Fund.

Commodity Rule Operator Exemption

The Stable Value Fund can be considered to be a “commodity pool” under the Commodity Exchange Act (the “Act”), with the “operator” of the pool being the Plan. However, the Plan has claimed an exemption from being classified as a “Commodity Pool Operator” under the Act, pursuant to Commodity Futures Trading Commission Rule 4.5(a). Thus, the Stable Value Fund is being operated without registration or regulation under the Act.
